

Charthouse Learning Facilitator Description

Charthouse Learning, creator of the world-famous FISH! video, is celebrating 25 years since the film was released. In that time FISH! has been recognized as the #1 training video in world.

We are contracting with experienced trainers who are excited about the opportunity to teach and facilitate half - and full-day events with the FISH! content.

As a trainer, you'll be working with assigned clients to deliver memorable events, as performances, with a lasting impact transforming their culture and environments.

Your goal is to prepare and provide energetic and entertaining speaking and facilitation performances for client events. You will be included in pre-event client conversations and virtual meetings to define expectations, understand the audience, current challenges, and desired outcomes.

Our Expectations:

- Learn our seasoned, and proven content
- Respond to client questions promptly
- Represent Charthouse Learning in a professional manner at all times
- Abstain from promoting self-developed programs and content
- Communicate feedback to Charthouse after event
- Time commitment of 2-3 performance a month
- Be willing to travel within the USA
- Be responsible for pre-paying travel expenses
- Attend our company provided Train-The-Trainer (T3) in Minneapolis at no charge. Travel, lodging, and meals are on your own.

Qualifications:

- 5+ years of professional experience, ranging from small to large audiences, at your level of comfort

- Be familiar with the audience industry trends and terms
- Have applicable stories and examples of the FISH! Practices
- Have a proven history of engaging participants in the group environment
- Comfortable with technology

Bonus Qualifications: (any of these are a plus!)

- Consulting, Training and 1-on-1 experiences
- Experience working with executives, managers, or leadership teams
- Experience with adult learning models and best practices of influence and persuasion
- Leverage knowledge of learning technology (Teams and Zoom).
- Provides coaching to individual employees and managers related to performances, leadership, and professional development.
- Familiar with other programs; Franklin Covey Courses, Zenger Folkman, and Crucial Conversations
